

Video Outline

- Tell us your specific major and minor and your plans after graduation and anything else you want us to know before you tell your "cultural positionality story".
  - Major plan to graduate and move out of Texas (Colorado or Minnesota)
  - Plans to move around for a while before really “settling down”
- Tell a short 1.5 - 2 minute “cultural positionality story”, from your professional or academic life.
  - How sales has altered my perspective on the psychology of communication and the way people make decisions
- Tell a short 1.5-2 minute "belonging story", from your professional or academic life.
  - Freshman year in New York, feeling excluded and having to reinvent myself socially
- In less than 2 minutes, summarize:
  - Motivation: Graduation around this time next year, maintaining a strong GPA and making honor’s list potentially
  - Goals: Further explore those aforementioned links between communication and decision-making
  - Achievement: Continue to read, write, and participate actively in my communication classes. Continue having conversations with people about what makes them tick in regard to professional and personal interactions
